

Name: University of Pittsburgh

Date Printed: 07/23/2018

Posted On: 02/08/2013

Industry: Education

Corporate address: 100 Craig Hall, US, Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh,

Description

The University of Pittsburgh, commonly referred to as Pitt, is a state-related research university located in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, United States. Founded as Pittsburgh Academy in 1787 on what was then the American frontier, Pitt is one of the oldest continuously chartered institutions of higher education in the United States. Pitt evolved into the Western University of Pennsylvania with an alteration to its charter in 1819, and upon relocating to its current campus in the Oakland neighborhood of Pittsburgh in 1908, the school received its current moniker, the University of Pittsburgh. For most of its history Pitt was a private institution, until it became part of the Commonwealth System of Higher Education in 1966.

Pitt has been placed in the top cluster of seven leading U.S. public research universities and among the clusters comprising the overall top 25 research universities, is ranked among U.S. News & World Report's top public universities, has been placed among the best for the quality of life of its students, has been named as a "best value" by various publications, and has appeared in multiple rankings of the world's top universities. The goals of the University of Pittsburgh diversity and inclusion commitment are to:

achieve diversity in the racial/ethnic and sex composition of its workforce at all levels;

enhance opportunities for enrolling, retaining, and graduating students from underrepresented groups;

provide accessibility and accommodation to individuals with disabilities;

create a campus environment free of bigotry and harassment; and engage minority- and women-owned businesses as vendors or suppliers.

Diversity

"We want to make certain that the opportunities we provide are equally available to all. That requires more than a few determined leaders. It requires a campus-wide effort."

—Mark A. Nordenberg, Chancellor

Back to Employer Profile

Diversity.com is the most trusted and affordable resource for any organization in search of diverse professionals, managers and executives. Founded in September 2000, Diversity.com is a privately held, 100% African American family owned small business with headquarters in Atlanta, GA. We market our recruitment services nationwide to all types of industries, organizations and communities with particular emphasis on attracting talented science, technology, education and medical savvy men and women.