Description

The University of Maine, founded in 1865, is the state's premier public university, located in the town of Orono. It is among the most comprehensive higher education institutions in the Northeast and attracts students from across the U.S. and more than 60 countries. It currently enrolls 12,000 total undergraduate and graduate students who can directly participate in groundbreaking research working with world-class scholars. Students are offered 88 bachelor's degree programs, 64 master's degree programs, 25 doctoral programs and one of the oldest and most prestigious honors programs in the U.S. The university promotes environmental stewardship on its campus, with substantial efforts aimed at conserving energy, recycling and adhering to green building standards in new construction.

Diversity at UMaine

The University of Maine is committed to creating and sustaining a welcoming environment for all students, faculty, staff and visitors. That environment, critical to the vigorous discovery/learning processes that define a university, also depends on diversity—diversity of ideas, cultures, experiences and backgrounds. The challenge, for all of us, is to seek out diversity, which is the lifeblood of a healthy intellectual environment, and to recruit and retain people who are traditionally under represented on our campus.
